

Steve Down Full Length Bio

Steve Down is an entrepreneur, author, and global thought leader focused on financial education, economic innovation, and purpose-driven business. He is the founder of Causeism, an emerging economic philosophy that integrates profit and philanthropy by embedding a social giveback into every business transaction.

Over the course of his career, Steve Down has authored five books, including Financially Fit for Life, The Miracle of Wealth, The Idea Economy, The Mountain, The Man, and The Compass, and The Wealth Compass. His work centers on helping individuals, families, and organizations better understand how wealth is created and how it can be aligned with purpose.

As a keynote speaker, Steve Down has presented in major cities across the United States and internationally on four continents. His insights on wealth, opportunity, and economic systems have reached millions through appearances on radio and television platforms worldwide.

In addition to his work as an author and speaker, Steve Down is the Founder, President, and CEO of Financially Fit, an organization dedicated to personal and professional financial education. He is also the founder of Cause Vision, a fintech initiative focused on developing technologies that connect commerce with giving, including digital wallet and payment solutions designed to integrate impact into everyday transactions.

Steve Down's philanthropic efforts include founding The Goat Foundation, a humanitarian initiative providing livestock to widows in underserved communities across Africa as a means of creating sustainable income and long-term economic independence. He also founded Cause Nations in Nairobi, Kenya, an organization focused on educating communities and leaders on how to implement Causeism principles at scale.

At the core of Steve Down's work is a simple belief: that business, when aligned with purpose, can become a powerful force for good—and that economic systems can evolve to better serve humanity.
